

Dairy Mating Service - DMS

INTRODUCTION TO DMS

DMS (Dairy Mating Service) was started in 1965 by Jim Kuhtz. Jim was raised on a dairy farm in Waukesha, Wisconsin. In 1955, while working for a major AI organization he moved to Modesto, California. He started DMS because he felt dairymen needed a herd analysis program that was effective in meeting the commercial and registered herds' needs. DMS resulted in a highly effective system that continues to help dairymen breed higher producing and longer living cattle with minimal problems.

WHAT IS DMS?

DMS is a tool used by dairymen to create a high producing, well balanced cow with longevity. It is a mating service whose goal is to produce a cow that effectively and efficiently meets the goals of the dairyman. With only three major parts of the cow being analyzed, this can be accomplished in one generation and generations to come.

The three major parts analyzed are: 1. The front end - being the health of the cow. 2. Udder and frame - being the production of the cow. 3. The rear end - being the reproduction of the cow.

Each cow is coded using three of the six codes depending on which parts of the cow need correcting. The codes that are used are as follows: 1-strong, 2-smooth, 3-style, 4-dairy, 5-tall and 6-flat bone. Cows are coded to improve their weakest traits. Bulls are coded for their ability to transmit their strengths. The bulls at the major AI organizations in the United States and Canada are analyzed by a professional DMS analyzer.

PHILOSOPHY OF DMS

"Balanced matings resulting in more usable cattle."

DMS is a totally independent mating program designed to match up not only the traits in a cow you would like to correct, but also looks at ancestry that transmits certain traits from the cow and the bull you are using.

FUTURE OF DMS

As herds around the country are getting larger, the emphasis will be to develop higher producing cows that last longer with minimal problems. DMS can help dairymen achieve this by analyzing the cows in their herds and helping them choose the bulls that work the best in their breeding program.

DMS Listing - Red Sires

Listed below are DMS numbers for proven and young sires of interest. DMS is another mating program used by several breeders. This is a new listing that will be useful to our breeders. If there is a current sire not included, please provide the DMS for our next listing.
